The Board will direct its day to day responsibilities and activities through an Executive Committee composed of the President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer and one Chapter President elected annually by the Chapter Presidents. The Board will have the responsibility for representing the interests of the entire Society and to make decisions regarding matters of policy.

Article IV - Management

The number of affirmative votes at a special meeting must equal the required number of affirmative votes if all directors had been present at the meeting. Minutes setting forth the action taken and the votes of the directors shall be kept with the corporation’s minutes. The Executive Committee will meet as necessary to conduct such daily business as may properly come before the Executive Committee. Charter for the RMS Awards Committee
As Adopted May 2, 2013
and revised October 14, 2013

I. Purpose

The purpose of the Awards Committee is to solicit nominations and recognize individuals who have made outstanding contributions in various aspects of river management. The committee is also charged with promoting awareness of the RMS Awards.

II. Committee

This Committee shall be chaired by the National Secretary and include the RMS Executive Director. The committee must have a minimum of five members in addition to the chair and Executive Director. Ideally, there will be one member from each RMS chapter, provided no chapter may provide more than one member to this committee. Diverse representation is encouraged from Federal, State, Local-level, non-profit, academia, and/or consulting firms. Input will be sought from the Interagency Wild and Scenic River Coordinating Council for the Frank Church Wild and Scenic Rivers Award.

III. Process

- The call for nominations will be announced in the quarterly Winter issue of the RMS Journal and will also be sent (electronically or by US Mail) to the current Society membership in December or January.
- Award selection will be made at least one month in advance of the scheduled workshop or Symposium that year (typically April).
- Should an Awards and Elections Committee member be nominated for an award, he/she will recuse themselves from the committee discussions about the particular award, but will participate in other award discussions. He/she may receive an award for the specific category nominated.
- The identities of award recipients will be kept confidential until the determined date and location where the awards will be officially announced.
- If the Awards Committee feels that there are no qualified nominees for an award, the award may not be given.
- Awards Committee members may nominate individuals for awards.
- The Awards Committee will use the criteria established for each award to rank candidates and make final selections.

IV. Award Category Criteria

Descriptions listed below each award title are intended to help nominators choose appropriate award categories and provide well-written nominations that address the bulleted award criteria utilized by Committee to evaluate nominees.

Outstanding Contribution to River Management Award (open to all)

This award recognizes someone with longer tenure in their career with a history of accomplishments (as opposed to more recent accomplishments highlighted by the River Manager of the Year Award). Please consider your nominee's length of tenure or the longer-term impact of their contribution in this category, and focus on their list of accomplishments related to the bullet points below.

- 1) Advanced the field of river management through contributions in areas such as science, education, interpretation, research, and/or law enforcement;*
- 2) Developed innovative (or creatively adapted) river management strategies and techniques (i.e. established unique river partnerships, envisioned and implemented river restoration programs, created visitor use management strategies, etc.);*
- 3) Advanced river management as a science and as a profession by improving communication between individuals and groups involved in river management (i.e. developed conferences, established collaborative partnerships, utilized social media to increase awareness, etc.)*
- 4) Provided opportunities for increased awareness by citizens and river visitors of their role in caring for rivers and watersheds; and/or*
- 5) Was an outstanding advocate for and promoted professional river management and outdoor ethics.*

1. River Manager of the Year (RMS Members Only)

This award category recognizes someone that is field-oriented with a focus on recent accomplishments. If a nomination is submitted for a professional with a longer tenure, only more recent accomplishments will be considered (up to past 3 years). Please consider this when nominating someone in this category. An individual with a longer tenure and history of accomplishments would be more appropriate for the Contribution to River Management Award. The committee will also consider exceptional contributions "on the river" (field-oriented, technician level) and river management (managerial, supervisory level) involving policy, planning, and program development.

- Provided leadership in promoting and protecting natural, cultural and recreational resources;*
- Worked effectively and cooperatively with user groups, private landowners, and/or general public;*
- Established or re-established key partnerships to protect and manage the river corridor;*
- Created an effective, professional and enjoyable working environment; and/or*
- Worked to protect one or more rivers within the context of their watershed and beyond designated lines on a map.*
- Created and established new and innovative approaches to river management, advancing the field and creating new enthusiasm for river protection and recreation.*
- Shows strong dedication and commitment towards advancing and improving river management into the future.*

2. Contribution to the River Management Society Award (RMS Members only)

This award category recognizes an individual who has contributed to the success of the River Management Society over a long period of time or, who in a few years has created significant growth or positive change for the organization.

- Brought new and positive private and public awareness of the RMS;

- Provided exemplary service to the RMS through an elected office.

3. Frank Church Wild and Scenic (WSRs) (open to all)

- Advanced awareness of WSRs through contributions in areas such as public contact, technology, training, interpretation, education, research, law enforcement;

- Exhibited leadership in promoting and protecting WSRs within the context of the established corridors and beyond designated lines on a map; and/or
- Worked to improve managing agency process, budget, and internal support for wild and scenic river programs.

V. Additional Selection Considerations

In determining the merits of each nomination, the Committee will consider the following:

- River Manager of the Year award is awarded to nominees with a substantial record of accomplishments over a recent period of time,
- Contribution to River Management and Contribution to RMS are awarded to nominees with exceptional contributions to River management as a profession and to the River Management Society as an organization, respectively. Exceptions can be made for someone who really excelled in any one year or in the most recent 2-3 year period within the award category.

- Award candidates should be re-nominated in future years. Nominations that are not selected for an award may be kept active for up to three years at the discretion of the Awards Committee, if still relevant and deserving.
- In all categories, nominations should reflect achievements beyond the norm and be worthy of an award; if nominations are scarce or do not meet the criteria in any given year, it is better not to give an award, as opposed to diluting or minimizing the award's stature and process.
- In evaluating each nomination, Committee members may choose to utilize a scoring table to assist them in organizing their nominee ratings. Most important, each Committee Member must come prepared to discuss their top 1-3 candidates for each category and discuss reasons WHY they were rated above others. If Committee Members choose to utilize a scoring table, it may be numerical or adjectival, the following is only one example:
 - <60 Unsatisfactory: Failed to meet any award category standards, weaker in comparison to other nominees.
 - 60-69 Marginal: minimally meets one or more of the award category bullets, not quite worthy of consideration in light of other nominees, might be best to table this one for future consideration after more achievements in career.
 - 70-79 Satisfactory: acceptable, meets most award category bullets.
 - 80-89 Good: Has several strengths, meets all award category bullets.
 - 90-100 Excellent: Exceptional achievements of all/most award category bullets in addition to other achievements of significance.
- The Committee may also consider the following, by award category:
 - a) For the Contribution to River Management Award:
 - a. Contributions accumulating over a long period of time, or during a lengthy career.
 - b. The degree to which the individual has gone 'above and beyond' with the context of their position and responsibilities.
 - c. The nature of the contribution and its enhancement to river management.
 - b) For the River Manager of the Year Award:
 - a. Tenure of the individual is not paramount; it is the specific accomplishments that have occurred within the recent period, (1-3 years) that have the highest importance for this award.
 - b. Tangible impact of their efforts, preferably on a specific river or system of rivers.
 - c. Recognition that the individual has gone "above and beyond" in order to protect their river resources.
 - c) For the Contribution to the River Management Society Award:
 - a. The nominee's membership must be current at the time of nomination.
 - b. The nominee has helped RMS move toward positive transformation in a noticeable way.
 - c. RMS is better because of their involvement and contribution.

- d) For the Frank Church Wild and Scenic Award:
 - a. Is the WSR system 'better' for their work?
 - b. Is a wild and scenic river 'better' for their work?

VI. Decision and Notification Process

The Committee Chair will schedule the conference call for the Awards Committee to deliberate.

The Committee Chair will summarize and organize the nomination package and provide it to the committee for review before the call.

Committee Members may choose to rate nominees if it helps their process. Ultimately, committee members must be ready to provide their top candidates for each category and explain why.

Committee Members will seek consensus in approving nominations; however, if consensus cannot be reached, a simple majority of votes will prevail.

Committee Members will ensure decisions to remain secret until announced at the next appropriate RMS gathering or venue (Workshop, Training, Symposium, etc.).

The Committee Chair will notify the President and insure the plaques are manufactured in time for the Spring Workshop or Symposium.

The Committee Chair will provide a short summary of each awardee to be used in the awards ceremony.

The Committee Chair will provide addresses for letters to be mailed out to the nominators of nominees not chosen to the President. The President will sign the letters on official RMS letterhead and mail them once the chosen nominees have been announced.

A Committee Member will draft an article for publication in the spring newsletter to be used with pictures taken at the awards ceremony.

Sponsorship Policy

As Amended and Approved February 9, 2004

I. Background

The River Management Society (RMS) encourages sponsorships from a variety of agencies, companies, organizations, individuals, etc. for the use in support of its mission, strategic plan, and goals and objectives. . Sponsors will have demonstrated, through their goals and past activities, support of the overall RMS mission. No sponsorships will be accepted that may in any way jeopardize the non-profit status of RMS. Request to provide support and sponsorship of RMS can be made to any member in good standing, who in turn will provide that request to an RMS Board Member or Chapter President for review. Examples of sponsors could include local, state, and federal agencies, quasi federal agencies such as the Tennessee Valley Authority, private corporations such as Idaho Power Corporation, Duke Energy, and Northwest River Supply and other organizations and societies such as Idaho Rivers United.

II. Types of Sponsorships

A. Symposium and Conferences Sponsorship

These sponsorships support symposiums, conferences, and workshops and are generally the most significant sponsorships in terms of financial and other tangible assistances. Examples of support include field trips and/or breaks, special sessions, presenters and/or keynote speakers, personnel assistance and support for organizing and holding the event.

B. Special Projects Support

Special projects support generally includes support of the local or regional events held by RMS or which RMS is a participant of. Such events could include Pass the Paddle (national event support on a local basis) and local or regional float trips or workshops. Sponsorships could be financial, equipment or personnel assistance, and/or service assistance. Examples include boating equipment, entertainment, food and drink items, travel assistance, and financial assistance.

C. Scholarship Programs

Scholarship support provides assistance to RMS to further the purposes of the RMS Scholarship Policy. Scholarship support could also include outright sponsorship of an RMS member(s) to attend an educational or professional function at the cost of the sponsor. Sponsorship is usually financial or through a value added method such as frequent flyer miles, hotel voucher or other.

D. Website Sponsorship and Advertising

The RMS website at www.river-management.org allows sponsors to link their website to the RMS site through the “Our Sponsors” link on the opening page. The “Our Sponsors” links to a second page which provides the logos of each sponsor, which, when double clicked, will bring the RMS website visitor to the sponsor’s website. The presentation of the sponsor’s website must be determined to compatible and appropriate with the RMS mission. The fee for linking to the RMS website is $25.00 per year per site linkage. Depending on the purpose of the linkage and the amount of revenue potentially generated the $25.00 annual fee could be waived.

E. RMS Auction and Donations In-Kind

Items may be donated to the RMS for use in its auctions held in conjunction with RMS events. Items may be anything that is appropriate for sale at a public auction.

F. Other

RMS is open to any sponsorship suggestions.

III. Process

A. Securing the Sponsor

An RMS member solicits a sponsor or is approached by a potential sponsor.

B. Approval of the Sponsor

The RMS member submits the sponsor information to an RMS Board member or for sponsorships of less than $500.00 and of a local nature submits the information to the Chapter President. Sponsorships are then reviewed formally by the RMS Board and approved or denied by the RMS Board for values of $500.00 or greater. For sponsorships of $500.00 or less and of a local nature, the Chapter officers review and approve/deny the sponsorship. The appropriate sponsor contact (Chapter Presidents, RMS contact, Symposium Chair, Committee Chair, etc.) will coordinate acceptance of the sponsorship. Should the sponsorship not be accepted, the sponsor contact will mail a letter of rejection with an explanation to the potential sponsor. For RMS auction items and donations in-kind (Sponsorship Type E) the auction chair will use their good judgment in accepting or denying an item.

C. Sponsorship Recognition and Benefits

Within three weeks of RMS receiving the sponsorship and the event occurring, the sponsor contact will send a thank you letter to the sponsor. With permission and agreement of the sponsor and RMS, RMS or the sponsor will publicize the sponsorship in a manner deemed appropriate by both RMS and the sponsor. If a sponsor wishes to remain anonymous that wish will be respected. It is understood that sponsors may wish to promote their business or cause through partnering sponsorships and this wish will be respected and developed within simple guidelines established by the RMS Board for each sponsor.

Approved sponsors will benefit from being able to inform clients and potential clients that they have been accepted as “approved sponsors of RMS”, thereby making their organization or business stand out as a champion of sound river management practice across North America. Sponsorship categories will be classified as the following levels for those wishing to use such classifications:

River Champion	$50,000 and greater
River Protector	$25,000-$50,000
River Defender	$10,000-$25,000
River Sustainer	$5,000-$10,000
River Partner	$1,000-$5,000

2. The Committee Chair will notify the applicant and his/her Chapter President of the funding award/rejection within one week of the decision being made, and whenever possible, at least two weeks prior to the event being applied for. The award decision (and the funding amount approved – subject to actual expenses incurred and receipt of accompanying invoices) will serve as documentation for RMS records.
3. The Committee Chair will keep records of the funds that it awards, including names of recipients, amounts awarded, names of events, dates awarded and will notify the national Treasurer of the amount awarded.

5. The RMS Treasurer will issue reimbursement checks for actual costs incurred (supported by receipts) up to the amount authorized by the Committee. If a personal vehicle is used for travel, the recipient may submit for mileage reimbursement – at rate not to exceed the current federal government allowance – in lieu of an actual receipt.

VII. Reporting and Representation

1. Recipients must report to the membership by writing a narrative overview of the event (appropriate to be used as a RMS Journal article) covering relevant topics, major issues, new technologies, written materials received, and any other information the recipient believes will benefit other members. Recipients may respond alternatively to having received a scholarship by contributing to the Society via specific tasks as requested by the Committee.
2. Reimbursements will not be distributed until the written report is received or alternate service has been performed.
3. Recipients are considered ambassadors of RMS (in accordance with employer or college/university ethics requirements) while attending conferences and training for which they have received funds. It is expected that they display and distribute RMS materials at the event, and/or volunteer time by staffing the RMS table.
4. The Committee may permit/require an applicant(s) to submit an alternate newsletter article, or to perform alternate volunteer service in lieu of the above requirements, if the Committee deems that doing so would avoid redundancy in event reporting, or would otherwise be of greater benefit to RMS.

Policy regarding “Consultant Yellow Pages” and Consulting Projects

As Amended and Approved May 23, 2005

[Note: the following replaces the policy as amended and approved December 15, 1999 and re-approved on February 9, 2004.]

I. Background

It is common for federal, state, regional or local governmental agencies and some non-governmental organizations to contract with consultants to conduct river research, planning, or management projects. The River Management Society (RMS) is interested in helping agencies or organizations find and develop connections with consultants that have experience or skills to conduct or assist with these projects. In some cases, RMS may also be willing to facilitate contracting between agencies and consultants by developing and administering a contract with a consultant (after receiving agency funds for this purpose).

RMS goals in enacting this policy are to:

- Help agencies find competent consultants.
- Help consultants advertise their expertise among agencies.
- Increase interest in RMS among consultants.
- Facilitate contracting for agencies and consultants, when appropriate.
- Utilize fees from “Consultant Yellow Pages” or from administering contracts to enhance RMS budgets.

This policy guides RMS involvement in these activities, including:

- Policies regarding a “River Consultant Yellow Pages” program, including potential fees, requirements, and the format for consultant listings.
- Policies for RMS to administer “pass-through” consulting projects, including criteria for involvement and administration fees.

“River Consulting Services” Resource”

RMS allows consultants to list their experience or skills with different types of river research, planning, or management projects for a fee. This information is available to the public on the RMS website.

Major components of the “Consulting Resources” program:

- RMS does not have the resources to “assess and certify” consultants, so information for each consultant will be limited. The goal is to ensure equivalent basic information from all consultants.
- RMS will develop the one-page electronic form that consultants will be allowed to complete. In general, the form will provide for consultant contact information, regions where they work, key areas of expertise, example projects, key staff with river expertise, and a limited list of references. An example form is attached.

- RMS will not be responsible for the accuracy of consultant information; however, it reserves the right to remove or edit information that it learns is inaccurate.
- An appropriate disclaimer will note that RMS does not recommend or endorse consultants on the list, and that the list is not intended to be exhaustive.
- Fees will cover administration costs of posting the information. Initial and annual renewal fee for a listing is $50.
- Consultants will be allowed to make changes to their listing as they change staff, develop new expertise, or want to highlight recent projects. There is no charge for changes.
- Listing information will be available to the general public via the website.
- To be on the list, consulting firms must have an RMS organizational membership or have at least one staff person who is an RMS member in good standing.
- Any names of staff provided in the listing must be RMS members in good standing.

RMS administration of “pass through” consulting contracts

RMS has occasionally contracted directly with consultants to conduct river research, planning, or management projects after receiving funds from an agency for that purpose. One goal of these “pass through” contracts is to facilitate contracting between agencies/organizations and appropriately-skilled consultants. A second goal is to produce revenue for RMS to further organizational goals. In order to ensure that these contracts are in concert with RMS goals, the following criteria will be applied before RMS will participate:

- Consultants must have an organizational membership in RMS or have at least one staff member as a member in good standing throughout the length of the contract, and the firm must be listed in the RMS Consultant Yellow Pages.
- Consultants must have general business liability and “errors and omissions” insurance coverage of $500,000.
- The agency/organization providing funds or RMS may be responsible for choosing the consultant. However, this must be documented via a transparent competitive bidding process or through an explicit statement that the agency/organization would like the contract directed to a particular consultant.
- The agency/organization providing funds must provide clear objectives for the project, and those must be in sync with RMS organizational missions and objectives. The executive committee will review any proposed contract to ensure that the project is 1) primarily focused on rivers, 2) related to important river management issues; 3) will provide a good example of a research, planning, or management project of a certain type; and 4) is likely to reflect well upon RMS.
- The agency/organization providing funds is responsible for assessing whether the consultant has performed up to standard, and will explicitly document progress of the project to RMS before payments are made.
- RMS participation in the project will be prominently displayed on the cover of the project report and on the title page.
- Consultants must agree to write a summary of the project upon completion for publication in the RMS newsletter.

Contract logistics and finances:

- Each pass-through contract shall be negotiated and formalized with the contractor by considering expenses associated with the project. These could include travel, supplies and materials, staff salaries, and consultant overhead, and will be detailed on a case-by-case basis. The sum of these shall be referred to as the “direct expenses” of the project.
- An administration fee shall be assessed by RMS for all contracts.
- Up to one-half of the administration fee may be directed to an individual or organization that is managing the contract for RMS (processing invoices, negotiating the initial contract, etc.). The rest will be returned to RMS for general use.

Introduction

Americans have a long history of philanthropy. It is estimated that some 90 percent of American households report making charitable contributions on an annual basis. But too often, people give with little forethought. They may feel pressured by telemarketers, respond to advertisements on a purely emotional level, or continue to give because they have in the past. While the spirit of giving is commendable, giving in a haphazard way could mean a gift may not have the impact it could. Think of your charitable giving as a part of your financial planning. Just as you research your investments and personal finances, you may want to weigh the RMS to make the best use of your contributions.

At some point, we all reflect on the past and look to the future in ways we can contribute to our families, our jobs, our society, and our legacy. Many seek to make a lasting contribution or impression through our families, avocations, hobbies or interests. One of the best ways to perpetuate a legacy is through planned giving to important causes or organizations.

YOU TOO CAN PERPETUATE YOUR LEGACY!!!

Summary

The River Management Society (RMS) encourages supporters to consider including our organization into your planned giving. Congress has structured our nation's tax laws to promote gift giving to tax-exempt charitable organizations like the RMS and, if properly structured, can reduce both your income tax and taxes on your estate.

Congress has authorized the use of various trusts which qualify for both deductions to income and estate taxes while providing an income stream to donors, and ultimately, a gift to the RMS. These trusts can also work in reverse to provide income to the RMS with a transfer to your children or other beneficiaries upon your death. Trusts can provide you with immediate income tax relief and substantially reduce the tax on your estate. These tax breaks can reduce out-of-pocket costs of gifts to the RMS. If you are interested in avoiding taxes and supporting the RMS, you should examine the comprehensive options and discussion contained herein. Remember to always discuss your plans with a qualified financial, legal, and tax advisor before you commit to any planned giving program.

"To give away money is an easy matter and in any man's power. But to decide to whom to give it, and how large, and when, and for what purpose and how, is neither in every man's power nor an easy matter." - Aristotle

"Estate planning - once reserved for the wealthy or elderly - is a good idea for everyone."

“Every man just as he determines in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loves a well-motivated giver.” 2 Corinthians 9.7

"Choice, one of our greatest freedoms and time the keepers of decisions--our lives are a reflection of choices made." - Gary G. Marsh

The River Management Society (hereafter referred to as RMS) provides this Planned Giving Program for friends of the RMS and is also on our website for your use.

Seek Counsel . Regardless of how worthy your intentions are, it is always wise to discuss your charitable gift plans with financial, legal, tax, and charitable organization advisors, especially the more complex transactions concerning tangible personal property, remainder interest in residences/farms, gift by estate distribution, or bargain sale options. There is no better way to ensure your wishes are both realistic and prudent. Be prepared to confidentially address financial and personal goals with regard to your charitable giving interests, what you want to give, the timing of your gift and how a gift is to be made. By asking many questions, you can better determine what suits your needs while benefiting the RMS. Each donation and donor will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis.

You have a full range of options and types of donation opportunities to the RMS. Through sound financial planning and individual portfolio assessment, members may use their wills, trusts, endowments, retirement and tax benefit options. Listed below are established mechanisms and guidelines within the RMS Planned Giving Program. Also refer to the “Ten Charitable Resolutions for the Philanthropically Inclined.”

RMS Professional Development and Student Scholarship Fund Policy

Agencies, institutions, or individuals may contribute funds to the RMS (members only) Professional Development and Student Scholarship Fund account. This account provides RMS members (professional and lifetime members only) opportunities (travel/per diem) to attend professional conferences, meetings, workshops and/or training which may enhance river programs, river resources, and/or their career. The fund is managed by a RMS scholarship selection committee (made up of the RMS Chapter Presidents, RMS Executive Director and National Vice-President who is chair of the committee) who award funding grants after an evaluation of the merits of the application, cost-effectiveness, and ability to leverage funds. Applicants must meet requirements and submit their nomination(s) via e-mail three to six months in advance through their Chapter President. Applications are reviewed quarterly (in January, April, July and October) by the RMS Scholarship Selection Committee. Members can visit the website at <http://www.river-management.org/scholarships.asp>.

Sponsorship

RMS accepts and encourages sponsorships from agencies, companies, organizations or individuals which are supportive of the RMS Mission (To support professionals who study, protect, and manage North America’s rivers), Strategic Plan, goals and objectives and specific RMS sponsorship policy. Sponsorship requests at and above $500 must be reviewed and approved by the RMS Board of Directors prior to acceptance. Requests may be made to any RMS member in good standing, officer, or Chapter President or through contacting the RMS Main Office. RMS hosts annual events and river management workshops, conferences, training, and ranger rendezvous field events. RMS has significant expertise in planning, organizing, conducting and/or hosting training, meetings, conferences, and/or workshops involving river management issues. Sponsorships also include special projects, in-kind or other financial support including equipment, food and drink items, entertainment, lodging, travel assistance, advertising, auctions, donations in-kind, financial assistance, service assistance, and other logistical support. Sponsors may promote their business or causes via linking to the RMS website (where compatible and appropriate with the RMS Mission) for a minimal fee. Sponsorship categories from $1,000 to $50,000 (or greater) are available.

Sponsorship categories will be classified as the following levels for those wishing to use such classifications:

River Champion	$50,000 and greater
River Protector	$25,000-$50,000
River Defender	$10,000-$25,000
River Sustainer	$5,000-$10,000
River Partner	$1,000-$5,000

Internships

RMS often seeks qualified college and graduate students who would like to work on river management projects to complement or supplement their academic course work. Seasonal and part-time internships may be available to assist the RMS Executive Director in any given year. Administrative duties may also be followed by in-the-field opportunities with a river manager. Contact the RMS Executive Director at P.O. Box 5750, Takoma Park, MD 20913-5750, Phone (301) 502-6545 or e-mail rms@river-management.org.

Volunteerism

RMS is a volunteer organization and ranks high with members and officers of the organization. Feel free to contact any member, Chapter or Board Officer or RMS Executive Director at any time for participating in chapter activities and other ongoing projects.

Gifts of Cash

Click on the “Donate to RMS” button at the top of the RMS website for payment by check, purchase order, or credit card. Donations by cash, check, money order, or credit card are deductible if you itemize your taxes in the year you make the contribution - up to 50 percent of your adjusted gross income (AGI). By timing your gift before December 31, you will see a tax break for the year you itemize deductions on your tax return. The postmark date (for checks) or the day the credit card charge is authorized is considered the gift date. Any excess deductions can be carried forward for the next 5 years. If you are in the 28 percent tax bracket, the cost of a $10,000 cash gift is only $7,200 because your taxes are reduced by $2,800. If you typically make annual cash donations, you might want to consider endowing your gift, which allows it to continue in perpetuity (see chart below).

How to turn an annual donation into a forever gift (these figures reflect a 5 percent annual return on your investment)

If you annually donate:	You can perpetuate your donation with a gift of at least:
$100	$2,000
$200	$4,000
$300	$6,000
$500	$10,000
$1,000	$20,000
$2,000	$40,000
$5,000	$100,000

Q. What is the federal gift tax and how does it work?

A. The federal government places a tax on gifts you make to other people during your lifetime. Each year, however, you may give up to $12,000 to as many people as you like ($24,000 for "split gifts" by a married couple) and not be subject to a gift tax. Under current tax law, any gift tax liability for gifts above $12,000 is sheltered by the unified credit of $2,000,000 of gifts and of your estate from gift or estate tax liability. The exclusion amount remains at $3.5 million.[Note: these amounts were current at the time prepared – check with your tax advisor for the current amounts]. Generally, the donor, not the recipient – is responsible for the tax, and must file a gift tax return, but unless the exclusion amount is exceeded, no tax is due. If required, your gift tax return is due the same time as your income tax return. The good news is that all transfers to your spouse or to a non-profit organization, such as the RMS, can be made tax-free.

Gifts of Securities or Property

Gifts of appreciated securities (individual stocks, bonds, mutual funds, or certain types of appreciated property held for longer than one year) are a great way to support the RMS and receive multiple tax benefits at the same time. If you are considering a significant charitable gift, you should look first to your stock portfolio. Not only are stocks generally deductible from income tax at full fair market value, giving in this way enables you to bypass capital gains tax otherwise due if the donated assets were sold. For example, say you want to donate a stock you could deduct the entire market value of the stock, including the capital appreciation. Your result is a lower income tax (because you have deducted the gift amount from your income) up to a limit of 30 percent of your AGI, with a five-year carryover for any excess.

Other tax advantages when donating stock, as opposed to selling it, are: 1) If you believe the stock will continue to increase in value; you may donate it and use the cash you might have used to repurchase the same investment. In so doing, you continue to own the same security, but enjoy a new, higher cost basis. As a result, you could have less gain to report on a future sale at a higher value. 2) You may also benefit from deducting losses should the security decline in value in the future. By contrast, when you donate the stock to a non-profit organization such as the RMS, you are not subject to any capital gains tax on the appreciation. Securities held for more than a year make good charitable gifts because the donor receives a charitable income tax deduction for their full fair market value.

Stocks are easy to transfer. Instruct the broker to notify the RMS when the stocks have been transferred (mailed or electronically transferred to the RMS bank account) which can be done by creation of a temporary account in the RMS' name. Another method is for the donor to provide an RMS account number to which the stocks should be sent. The date of the gift is when the securities are considered beyond the donor's power to regain control. Should the donor have actual possession of the physical securities (which is rare), they can be either hand-delivered or mailed to RMS. If mailed, the stock certificates and the stock power must be sent separately. The date of the gift is the day the envelopes are postmarked. If you use a private carrier to send them, the date of the gift is the day the RMS actually receives the stocks.

If you own investments that have decreased in value since you have owned them, consider selling them and making a charitable gift of all or a portion of the cash proceeds. In addition to an income tax deduction for the cash contribution, this creates a loss you may be able to deduct from other taxable income. The combined amount of the deductible loss and the charitable deduction could actually total more than the current value of the investment. Whether you make your gift in the form of cash or other property, deductions may reduce your taxes in as many as six years.

Outright Gifts

Many circumstances can motivate one to consider a gift of stock. Illustrated below are the possible savings which could result from a charitable donation using appreciated stock versus cash. Assume you have stock (held for more than one year), which you could sell for $5,000, and it originally costs $3,000. Due to appreciation, you have an untaxed capital gain of $2,000. If your marginal income tax rate is 30 percent (20 percent on capital gains), the difference in net cost between giving cash or the stock can be significant:

Example

	Giving Cash	Giving Appreciated Stock
Value of gift	$5,000	$5,000
Tax saving from use of deduction (30 percent rate)	($1,500)	($1,500)
Tax savings from avoidance of capital gains (20 percent rate)	N/A	($ 400)
Net cost of cash gift	$3,500	$3,100
Cost as % of gift	70%	62%

If you have more appreciation in the contributed stock, or are in a higher combined federal and state tax bracket, your savings increase and the cost of your gift decreases. It also makes sense to use appreciated securities for charitable gifts, instead of cash, if you want to keep the securities as an investment. If this is the case, you could donate the securities to RMS and then buy new securities thus obtaining a new cost basis equal to the fair market value.

Gifts to Children

Parents have a number of reasons for making gifts to children. First, a parent should have sufficient resources for retirement and for long-term care needs before making substantial gifts. Once you have acquired a reasonable level of security, you might consider making gifts to children.

Your gifts to children will enable two types of education. First, your children will have the ability to learn to manage and hopefully invest the gifts to start building their estate. In addition, you will be able to understand better how a child will manage or use the gift property.

Finally, if you have a larger estate, the use of annual gift exclusions can be a very good strategy to save potential future estate taxes.

There are Seven Different Ways That Gifts Can be Made to Children.

1. Cash Gifts: You can simply write a check to children. Some parents give an amount up to the annual gift exclusion ($14,000 per child, per parent in 2015 and larger amounts in future years). This is a very easy and convenient way to make a gift.

However, there are some concerns about cash gifts that you should understand. When gifts to children are in cash, they are quite frequently spent rather than being invested. If the regular gifts are made over a period of years, it may encourage your children to live at a higher than normal lifestyle. In many cases the child will benefit more from a gift of a property investment, rather than a gift of cash.

2. Stock Gifts: While it is possible for you to hold stock certificates, the overwhelming majority of stock is now held in a street account by a brokerage firm. The easiest method for transfer of stock is for the child to create an account with the same firm. The brokerage firm has the documentation necessary to make a transfer from your account to your child's account.

With a property gift, you will need to know the gift value. Because public stock is valued at the mean between the high and low prices on the date of the transfer, the value is quite easy to determine. Most parents will make stock gifts to children with value below the annual exclusion amount. Each parent will have one annual exclusion for each child, so the total given each year for a couple is double the exclusion. In addition, larger gifts can be made by filing an IRS Form 709 Gift Tax Return and using part of your lifetime gift exemption.

If stock or other appreciated property is transferred to children by gift, they take the same cost basis as the parents. Although the stock may be appreciated, there is no capital gains tax payable when the stock is transferred. However, the child has the same basis as the parent. If the stock is sold, the child will pay capital gains tax on the increase in value.

The dividends or income from the stock will be distributed to the child. If he or she is under age 19 or is a student under age 24, then in most cases the income will be taxed to the child at the parent's tax rate. You may have heard this concept called the "kiddie" tax.

3. Mutual Funds: Many parents own mutual funds that are managed by a financial services firm. These may be a very good candidate for a gift to children. You can create a new mutual fund account and use the appropriate form from the financial services company to make a gift to the child. If the mutual fund is appreciated, then the potential capital gain and income tax rules are similar to those described for the gifts of stock.

4. Gifts of Land or Home: A gift of real property is accomplished through a deed. Depending upon your state's rules, a warranty or grant deed is normally used, but in some cases a quitclaim deed may be appropriate. You will identify the property being transferred on the deed. After you sign the gift deed, it will be notarized and recorded with the county registrar of deeds. This will produce clear evidence that the property has been given to your children.

In order to qualify for the gift exclusion limit, you may choose to transfer partial interests in property. This is called an "undivided interest" in the property. For example, if a property is worth $100,000 a parent might deed 10% of that property each year for ten years to a child. The gifts will be less than the gift exclusion and after ten years the child owns the property. If the real property is substantial in value and gifts exceed the annual exclusion, then you will need an appraisal so that the property transferred can be correctly valued on IRS Form 709, Federal Gift Tax Return.

5. Uniform Transfers to Minors Act (UTMA): Under the UTMA, you may transfer property or assets to a custodian for the benefit of a child who is a minor. The custodian serves as the manager of the asset and can invest and spend funds as he or she considers advisable for the use and benefit of the minor. The custodian must maintain tax records and the income is taxed to the child.

When the child reaches legal age (18 in some states, although age 21 is required or permissible in most states), the child then has ownership of the assets.

The UTMA is convenient and relatively easy to manage. If assets are likely to be used for the child's education by age 21, the UTMA can be a good planning strategy. However, if there are fairly substantial assets you may be reluctant to permit a 21-year-old child to have access to large principal amounts.

6. Trust for Children: A child's trust can be quite flexible. Many parents have created trusts for the benefit of one child or even a "family pot" trust for multiple children. The trustee is frequently given permission to use the trust income for the education, living expenses and health needs of the child.

Trustees frequently have broad discretion over trust investments and the use of the funds. The goal of the parents is to provide for the needs of the child yet protect the funds until the child has reached the age of financial responsibility. As a parent, you have the ability to decide what the general guidelines on distributions will be for your trustee and at what age your children will receive their principal from the trust.

7. Tax-free Sale Trust for Children: An attractive option if you have appreciated property is to create a charitable remainder unitrust for a term of 20 years with income payable to children. For example, John and Mary Jones had three children and owned property with a value of $250,000. Because they had paid $50,000 for the property, they were reluctant to sell and pay a capital gains tax of over $45,000.

A much better plan for John and Mary was to transfer the property to a charitable remainder trust (scroll further to see details concerning this option) paying 6% to their three children for 20 years. They received an income tax deduction of approximately $75,000 and bypassed the capital gains tax. The children each received one-third of the 6% income for 20 years and their total income was approximately $330,000. After the 20 years, the trust had grown to $305,000 and it benefited the favorite charities of John and Mary.

John and Mary were able to enjoy very large tax savings now, transfer an income stream to children for 20 years and eventually benefit their favorite charities. Mary particularly appreciated the ability to give an income stream because one of the three children tended to "spend money like water" and had the opportunity over 20 years to acquire better financial management skills.

Charitable Trusts (Introduction)

The purpose of a trust is to set aside money or other assets to accomplish some financial objectives without the worry of money management. Charitable trusts offer the additional advantage of tangible economic benefits for the donor while providing for the RMS after the death of the donor(s). Some gift options produce income for the donor or the donor's named beneficiaries. Cash or other assets are donated to the charitable trust with the donor or other beneficiary(ies) receiving an income interest for life or a term of years. Charitable trusts come in several types, each of which are designed to accomplish specific donor objectives and are discussed below.

Five examples of charitable trusts are as follows:

- Retirement Unitrust
- Charitable Remainder Annuity Trust (CRAT)
- Charitable Remainder Unitrusts (CRUT)
- Revocable Living Trusts
- Charitable Lead Trusts

Retirement Unitrust

An example: Mary grew up on a farm. When her parents passed away, she inherited the farm.

When Mary was growing up, the farm was out in the country. Now that the city has grown, the farm is within the city limits. Several developers would like to build homes on the farmland.

Mary: We have received modest payments from the farm over the years. I allowed a neighboring farmer to graze his cows on the farm until recently. Since I inherited the farm from my parents several years ago, the value of the farm has greatly increased.

Bill: We checked with our tax advisor and the farm could be sold, but there would be a very large tax to pay. Since it is a good time to sell the land, we would like to sell. And then it would be good to let the sale proceeds grow for about 10 years until we plan to retire. In fact, we are hopeful that we can sell tax free and then allow the proceeds to grow tax free.

Mary: I was excited to learn from our tax advisor that there is a plan that does provide for our retirement. She explained that we could transfer the land into a special trust. Once inside this trust, the farm could be sold tax free and the cash invested for growth. The proceeds would grow tax free inside the trust until we retire. At that time, the payouts would be taxable, but we could have as much as $900,000 in the trust.

Bill: We will enjoy a very nice retirement. We already have an IRA and are planning to use that for retirement. With the extra income from this retirement trust, we will be able to travel and really enjoy our golden years.

*Please note: The names above are representative of typical donors and may or may not be an actual donor to the RMS.

Charitable Remainder Annuity Trust (CRAT)

To establish a Charitable Remainder Annuity Trust (CRAT), the donor transfers cash or appreciated assets to a trustee to be held for the benefit of the RMS. During the donor's lifetime, the trustee makes guaranteed fixed payments (determined at the time the trust is established) to the donor. The donor may also be designated a second surviving beneficiary to receive the payments.

The CRAT is tax-exempt by virtue of the fact if there is a charitable beneficiary of the remainder interest, RMS becomes the beneficiary. Because of its versatility, the CRAT is one of the most popular life income vehicles.

Advantages include:

- You are entitled to an income tax deduction for the present value of the remainder interest.
- Any capital gain on appreciated assets is bypassed.
- You or other beneficiaries receive an income interest for life or a term of years.
- You help river managers by providing needed resources for services and programs.

You can use many different kinds of property and assets to fund CRATs. They are life income instruments where you or your trustee, financial advisor, or attorney retains control over the trust assets, within limits of the agreement. While CRATs are tax-exempt, the income produced is not necessarily so, depending on the type of asset producing the income. CRATs pay a fixed amount annually while the charitable remainder unitrusts (CRUTs - discussed below) pay a variable amount annually.

Rather than paying a percentage of the net fair market value of trust assets (revalued each year), the CRAT pays a fixed dollar amount, based on the initial fair market value of the property placed in the trust. CRATs are for those who want a fixed sum and do not want to worry about the vagaries of the market. This strategy can be carried even further if the trustee purchases high-quality corporate bonds. The purchase of tax-exempt bonds will yield tax-exempt income. In the CRAT, no matter how much the corpus grows, the annuity amount never changes, so it may not be appropriate where the funding assets are expected to appreciate. In general, CRATs are popular with conservative donors with conservative assets producing predictable income. Although circumstances vary, CRATs seem to favor older donors who are not worried about the ravages of inflation.

If you wish to reduce your dependence on equities, secure an increased and steady income and make a gift to the RMS, this might be the alternative for you. Of course, you would prefer to make this change without erosion due to capital gains tax. An appropriate and efficient solution is to select your most highly appreciated assets, or those with the least potential for further growth, and transfer them to a CRAT. You must specify a set amount of annual income you (or another income beneficiary) would like to receive from the trust, which may actually end up being two or three times the dividend rate of the stock you transferred.

The income could last your lifetime (plus the lifetime of a subsequent income beneficiary, i.e., your spouse) or a term of years. A CRAT is a tax exempt trust that pays income to the donor's designee. After the trust term ends, the charity you name, e.g., the RMS receives the remainder of the assets in the trust. The year you establish the CRAT, you receive an income tax charitable deduction. This amount depends on the number of beneficiaries named to receive income from the trust, their life expectancies, the amount of income the CRAT will distribute to them (including how frequently the payments are made), and the current interest rate.

Examples: Jamie, age 75, places $100,000 of stock currently generating $1,200 per year (cost basis, $70,000) in a one-life CRAT paying 6 percent in semi-annual installments (with an applicable federal interest rate at the time of 6 percent). So, she will receive $6,000 annually. She is allowed a charitable deduction of $55,948, which in her 30 percent tax bracket saves her $16,784 of income tax. In addition, she avoids the capital gains tax on her $30,000 appreciation in value, which amounts to a $6,000 savings at the 20 percent tax rate. The net cost of the $100,000 gift was only $77,216, and she increased her income by $4,800, or five times the original income stream.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaver, ages 65 and 60, use $100,000 of appreciated stock to fund a six percent CRAT. They will receive an immediate income tax deduction for the present value of the remainder interest of the trust. They also will begin receiving payments of $6,000 per year which will continue for as long as either one of them lives. After their deaths, the trust will terminate and the proceeds will be distributed to the RMS.

Charitable Remainder Unitrusts (CRUT)

A Charitable Remainder Unitrusts (CRUT) is similar in concept to a CRAT, but one key difference is unitrust payment amounts vary from year to year. CRUTs provide payments to the donor for life or a term of up to 20 years. At the end of the term, the remaining assets in the trust pass to the RMS. Once you establish a CRUT, the RMS must begin making regular payments to you, at least annually. They are determined by multiplying the percentage stipulated in the trust by the fair-market value of the assets which are revalued each year.

Example: If Mr. and Mrs. Jay had funded a CRUT instead of a CRAT (example above), they would still receive six percent of the total funds each year, but the amount of their payments would vary as the value of the assets in the trust increased or decreased. By the end of the first year, assuming the value of the trust assets had grown to $105,000, the Jones' payments would have increased to $6,300. If the value of the assets had decreased to $95,000, their payment would have gone down to $5,700.

CRUTs come in three basic flavors:

- The straight percentage unitrust (CRUT) pays a fixed percentage of the net fair market value of the trust assets valued annually.
- The net income unitrust (NICRUT) pays the lesser of net income or the fixed percentage of the net fair market value.
- The net income with makeup trust (NIMCRUT), pays the lesser of net income or the fixed percentage, but adds a twist -- in years when the trust's net income is less than the fixed percentage there is a deficit account established, and the deficit is "made up" in years when the net income is greater than the fixed percentage. Another variation, the flip trust, allows the trust to "flip" from a NICRUT or NIMCRUT to a straight CRUT upon the occurrence of some triggering event, i.e., birth, death, or the sale of certain trust assets. The trust is often funded with appreciated assets that are delivering a low yield.

The tax benefits for a CRUT are similar to those of a CRAT. They include:

- An immediate charitable income tax deduction
- Avoiding capital gains taxes on long-term appreciated property used to fund the trust
- Payments for the life of the donor, and if desired, a secondary beneficiary, each of which could receive favorable tax treatment determined by trust activities.
- A legacy to the RMS to help perpetuate a commitment to the profession of river management

Charitable Lead Trusts

This type of trust would name RMS as a current beneficiary of an irrevocable trust. RMS would receive payments on an annual basis from the trust as determined by the donor at the time the trust is created, and the donor's named beneficiaries receive the remaining assets when the trust ends. Some donors could support RMS by using income from assets they eventually want returned to their family. The Charitable Lead Trust is the perfect vehicle for this type of gift. These types of trusts are typically designed to leverage the benefit of giving to both RMS and to the heirs of the donor(s). A gift tax charitable deduction for the actuarial value of any payment stream to RMS will reduce the gift tax value of the transfer to any heirs.

Example: A donor may state that RMS is to receive 4 percent of the value of the assets in the trust for 20 years, after which the remainder of the assets will be given to the donor's child. The RMS could use the payment each year to support a specific RMS need. If the donor wishes, the RMS could accumulate the money for a designated endowment fund in the donor's name or in the name of some other family member.

This trust option has some tax benefits which are dependent upon the terms of the trust when it is created. At the end of the period, the donor would have three options:

- The donor could have the principal of the trust returned
- The donor could renew the trust for another five years and receive another income tax deduction
- The donor's economic situation might permit transferring the entire principal of the trust to the RMS to establish an endowment.

Revocable Living Trusts

Many individuals are interested in making a substantial gift to the RMS, but feel more comfortable having access to their funds. This may be accomplished through a Revocable Living Trust. Because the gift is revocable, the donor does not receive an income tax deduction, but whatever funds eventually go to the RMS are deductible for estate tax purposes, if applicable.

Example: Nate Gibson, age 60, has been making small contributions to the RMS for a number of years. He would now like to make a $25,000 commitment, but is concerned he may need the money if he were to become ill or disabled. Through a revocable trust agreement, he could transfer the $25,000 and retain the right to receive the income from the trust each year for as long as he lives. The trust would contain a clause allowing him to withdraw his assets at any time during his lifetime. Following his death, the trust assets would be distributed to the RMS.

Closely Held Stock in a Family Business or Corporation

If you are an owner of stock that is highly appreciated yet not readily marketable, such as shares in a family business, you may have the opportunity to be philanthropic at a minimal cost. You could make an outright charitable gift of stock in your corporation. The corporation, preferring to keep its stock closely held, may subsequently offer to buy the stock back from the RMS at its appraised value and the RMS, preferring to hold marketable securities or usable cash, would more than likely agree to sell to the corporation. However beware: no sale between the RMS and the corporation can be pre-arranged if you wish to avoid the capital gains tax. If you are the sole stockholder, you will still own 100 percent of the equity if the corporation buys back the stock and retires it as treasury stock. From the corporation's point of view, excess profits have been distributed without a penalty tax. An alternative is for younger family members and key employees to purchase the stock. In addition to supporting the RMS, you will have effectively transferred some of the ownership without a capital gains tax or receipt of constructive dividends.

Charitable Gift Annuities

Under the terms of a gift annuity, donors can make a charitable gift of cash or other property as receive fixed payments for life. The frequency and amount of payments are determined at the time the annuity is funded. The payments never change and continue regardless of how long the donor and/or other recipients live. Depending on the volatility of the stock market and/or in times of declining interest rates, many look for ways to ensure reliable income for either themselves or their loved ones. Charitable gift annuities, part gift and part annuity, are simple contracts between one or two donors and the RMS. Depending on the solvency (financial health) of the RMS, the contract (negotiated with the RMS) could require the RMS to pay a predetermined stream of income (never decreasing in size regardless of economic conditions) to you (or a person you name), for life (or term specified), in exchange for the gift. After that time, the remainder of your gift goes to the RMS. The older the annuitant (donor) at the time of the gift, the higher the payment (annuity) rate. Rates in 2003 range from 5.7 percent (age 60) up to 9.5 percent for those over age 85. Gift annuities may not be available in all states or from all organizations - including the RMS.

Example: Alley Jay, age 77, gift amount: $10,000. The charitable gift annuity is an agreement between the donor, Alley Jay, and the RMS. In exchange for an irrevocable gift, the RMS agrees to pay Alley a fixed lifetime income, or annuity. With Alley's age of 77, her annuity rate is, say, 7.6 percent. (The annuity rates may vary from year to year and on other factors – see note below). The income and tax benefits for a gift amount of $10,000 would include a charitable deduction of $4,165.90 for federal income tax purposes in the year of her gift. The annual payment would be $760.00 to her with some $525.92 (amount of the annual payment) considered tax-free for federal income tax purposes. The rest would be reported as ordinary income. After 11.1 years, Alley's entire payment is considered ordinary income.

The older you are when you establish the donation, the higher the annuity rate. Other benefits include:

- Annuity payments partially tax-free;
- Charitable tax deduction in the year you make your gift;
- Potential capital gain savings and estate tax benefits; and
- Satisfaction in knowing you are providing support for river management professionals and North America's rivers.

Note: Rates of payment for gift annuities with RMS are based on prevailing rates prepared by actuaries of recognized insurance companies, taking into account current life expectancies and prevailing economic conditions. Note: Because prevailing rates may shift up or down, be sure to request the latest rate information (and age category) before making your gift.

Deferred Gifts - Cash, Stock, or Mutual Fund Shares

Donations of these items can be put in a deferred gift annuity with the annuity payments beginning at a future date of the donor's choice. The tax deduction is immediate for a significant portion of the gift. The deduction can be used to shelter higher earnings, bonus, or reportable income from exercising nonqualified stock options. Sample annuity rates for individuals ages 40-60 who choose to start payments at age 65 are as follows:

Age Now	Annuity rate
40	20.4%
50	15.3%
60	8.8%

Defer the payment longer and the rate may increase dramatically, e.g., if a 60 year-old elects to have payments begin at age 70, the annuity rate increases from 8.8% to 12.4%. Any gift will help the RMS meet its goals and objectives for future generations.

Note: Rates of payment for gift annuities with RMS are based on prevailing rates prepared by actuaries of recognized insurance companies, taking into account current life expectancies and prevailing economic conditions. Note: Because prevailing rates may shift up or down, be sure to request the latest rate information (and age category) before making your gift. Tangible Personal Property Gifts (works of fine art, rare books, jewelry, coins, stamps, antiques, collections or similar valuables)

Any personal property or collectible may have appreciated substantially in value when compared to its original cost and can make a satisfying charitable gift (often sold without capital gains tax). Give property that will result in the greatest capital gain if/when sold by the RMS. RMS is greatly enriched by any item of sentimental value that often has more than monetary value (please call to see if the item can be put to good use or enjoyed in perpetuity). For appreciated tangible personal property to be tax-deductible at full fair market value, the RMS must be able to use the item in ways related to its organizational mission and goals. Otherwise, the deduction is based on the donors' tax basis. Appraisal and/or inspection of the gift(s) may be necessary prior to transfer/donation.

Collectibles can also be combined with cash or securities in order to meet minimum requirements (determined by tax laws). Sales proceeds can be reinvested for the donor's benefit. The donor can choose a percentage payout and receive income for life. The gift can be partially tax-deductible. After the lifetime of the donor, the principal could go to the RMS and the gift would help the organization for future generations.

Gifts-in-Kind - An Alternative Gift Asset

A gift-in-kind is typically an item or a service that you donate to a non-profit organization. Such gifts are likely to be tangible assets - things you can put your hands on, carry or place in your residence, as opposed to cash, stocks, or real estate. Commonly, people donate tangible personal property (see above). Rules governing gifts-in-kind differ from other assets, such as cash or securities. The key is for the donor to know if the receiving organization can use the gift to further their exempt purposes. For example, a museum often accepts works of art and will use the asset instead of selling it, the donor can then deduct (within limits related to their income) the entire value of the asset. [See IRS Publication 561 for advice in determining the value of the asset] If the asset does not have a “related use,” a purpose related to the RMS’ mission, the donor is permitted to deduct only the cost basis of the asset. Contributions of personal services are not deductible, however you may deduct any out-of-pocket expenses incurred in the course of performing services away from home for the RMS (e.g., meals, lodging and/or travel expenses), as long as there is no significant element of personal pleasure, recreation, or vacation connected to the travel.

Gifts of Life Insurance

Life insurance can be an attractive option for charitable giving, even in the case of policies for which you are still paying premiums. You may own policies that have built up cash but are no longer needed for the purpose for which they were intended. If the policy is paid, your tax deduction is usually the cost basis or the replacement value of the policy, whichever is less. By donating a policy it will remove it from your taxable estate and provide you with an immediate income tax deduction. Or, you can buy a new policy and make the RMS the owner and beneficiary. In either case, the future premium costs can be tax-deductible. Donating or purchasing life insurance includes the following advantages:

1. You save taxes through an income tax charitable deduction when you name the RMS as the owner and beneficiary or the irrevocable beneficiary. Your deduction is limited to your cost basis (what you originally paid) even if the fair market value of the insurance is higher.
2. You can make a gift of your policy and continue paying the premiums, which allows you to claim the premium amount as an annual tax deduction.
3. Gifts of all or a portion of the value of life insurance may result in significant estate tax savings.

A gift of life insurance is easier to arrange than many other types of deferred gifts, e.g., you can transfer ownership of an insurance policy to the RMS without the legal expense of preparing a will or codicil. We realize that if you still need your life insurance for your future financial security or that of someone in your family, those concerns will always come first. But here are some ways you can safeguard personal requirements and still keep the RMS in your thoughts:

- Name the RMS as the contingent beneficiary, and then the RMS would receive the proceeds should your primary beneficiary predecease you.
- Name the RMS as beneficiary, but you retain ownership and retain control of your policies.

- Create a trust (revocable, irrevocable, or unitrust) to receive the policy proceeds. Then any funds are invested for a family member's support after your lifetime; when that person dies, the trust remainder can be paid to the RMS.

These plans will not entitle you to an income tax deduction, but they will satisfy your natural desire to use the policies for personal and family responsibilities as long as required and to support the RMS's mission later.

Demutualization of Life Insurance Companies (Shares of Stock)

Many of the nation's insurance companies are mutual companies which are owned by policy owners. These companies raise capital by selling policies, thus creating additional cash flow. Many have "demutualized" or are in the process of doing so in order to raise capital through the sale of shares of stock. These companies are giving the policy owners shares of stock based on the value of their policies. Many people find themselves in a position of owning paid-up life insurance they no longer need. In the case of demutualized insurance, the stock they were given has a zero cost basis and if the shares were redeemed, the entire proceeds of the sale are taxable. However, if one donates the shares of stock to a qualified non-profit organization, like the RMS, the individual receives a charitable tax deduction for the full market value of the shares on the date of the donation. Some limits may apply. Qualified non-profit organizations are not subject to taxation upon the sale.

Gifts of Real Estate

Thinking of selling land or a building? You may be surprised to find that your personal residence, farm, vacation home, commercial property, or parcel of undeveloped land, held for more than one year and debt-free, can be a tax-smart donation. A present or future gift of real estate offers valuable income tax and estate tax savings. Donors can usually receive a federal income tax deduction for its fair market value of up to 30 percent of the donors' AGI, with a five-year carryover for any excess. Many donors find themselves with non-income producing real estate which requires cash to maintain and may be costly to dispose of at their death. They would like to sell the asset but learn significant capital gain taxes might be owed once sold. You can also free yourself of burdensome management and the problems involved in selling the property or leaving it to estate liquidation. A property inspection and appraisal will be required before the gift is made, so allow ample time for any transfer if you are seeking a tax deduction for a particular year. The day the RMS receives the signed deed is the date of the gift. If your state law requires recording the deed to fulfill the title, then the date of recording is the gift date. There are several ways to donate properties that have appreciated in value without incurring tax on the appreciation. You can give the entire property, a portion of the property (undivided interest), use the property to establish a charitable remainder trust, or donate with conditions (retained life estate gift), i.e., retain residency rights.

A gift of land or developed property to the RMS, with a fair market value above the cost basis, produces the same double tax savings as a gift of securities, and certain types of real estate are favorable for unique reasons.

- Agricultural land, for example, tends to return a low percentage of its market value.
- Real property, such as land or a vacation home that is no longer used, has a cost of ownership.
- An older commercial building may be fully depreciated, costly, and time-consuming to manage.
- Developed investment or commercial property on which straight-line depreciation was taken may provide significant capital gains savings.

Gift Tax Considerations:

Q: Every year I pay income tax. And when I pass away my estate will owe tax. But I was absolutely stunned today to hear that I might even have to pay a gift tax! Do you mean that if I give this land to my children, there is yet another tax?"

A: "Yes, there could be a gift tax. You can make small gifts like birthday gifts without tax. But if you give a large property to your children during your lifetime, there could be a gift tax. And it may be as much as 40% of the value."

Why Did Congress Pass a Gift Tax?

Following the passage of the estate tax, Congress realized that a gift tax is also necessary. If there were no gift tax, creative CPAs and estate attorneys would urge their clients to make deathbed gifts. Rather than waiting until they pass away and paying estate tax, if there were no gift tax the transfer tax could be entirely avoided by making death-bed gifts.

As a result, Congress determined that it needed to pass a gift tax in order to make the estate tax effective. Now, even if a person makes gifts on their death-bed the tax will be payable on the transfer to children.

How Does Gift Tax Work?

A person who makes gifts to children, grandchildren or other heirs will be taxed on the fair market value of the gift. The first part of the gift is allocated to the annual exclusion. But if the gift is more than that amount, then the cumulative gifts over the donor's lifetime are added up and compared with the lifetime gift exemption. If your total gifts (over annual exclusions) during your lifetime exceed the gift exemption, then you must pay gift tax.

What is the Annual Exclusion?

When the gift tax was first created, Congress understood that parents give birthday gifts and other small gifts to children, grandchildren and other heirs. As a result, Congress decided that there would need to be exclusion for these smaller gifts. The exclusion was $3,000 for many years, then $10,000 and now has increased in value to $14,000. It is adjusted up for inflation about every three years by another $1,000.

How Many Annual Exclusions Can I Use?

First, the annual exclusion must be a present interest gift. This means that the child or other recipient must be able to use the property or spend the money.

Each person is permitted one gift exclusion per recipient per year. For example, a mother could give her daughter $14,000 under the gift exclusion in 2015. A mother and father could give a son and daughter-in-law $56,000, because there are two donors' times two recipients times the $14,000 exclusion.

A grandmother and grandfather with ten grandchildren could make quite large gifts. If each gives $14,000 to the ten grandchildren, then the total gifts under the exclusion amounts would be $280,000 in one year. Assume that they made that same gift every year for ten years, for a total of $2.8 million. If the grandchildren retain and invest the gifts, at the end of ten years the appreciated value could be between $3.5 million and $4.5 million – and all with zero gift tax and no use of their lifetime gift exemption.

How Much is the Lifetime Exemption?

Donors will typically first use their available annual exclusions. However, large gifts such as the ranch that John contemplates giving to his children may involve use of the gift exemption. The exemption is $5.43 million per person in 2015. After making use of the $14,000 annual exclusion, John and his wife, Helen, can each then give $5.43 million in value ($10.86 million total) to children using their lifetime gift exemption.

While there is no tax cost now for using the exemption, it does affect the estate. In future years, there will be a reduced estate exemption. If John uses $1 million of his gift exemption, that reduces the future available estate exemption by $1 million.

Are There Gift Deductions?

Yes, there are potential gift deductions for marital gifts, charitable gifts and gifts for medical expenses and tuition.

There is unlimited gift exclusion for transfers to a spouse. The gifts could be outright or could be in a qualified terminable interest property (QTIP) trust. This is a special marital deduction trust. The spouse receives all the income from the trust and the trust principal can be invaded only for the benefit of the spouse.

A second deduction is for gifts to charity. The donor receives an income tax deduction, but there is also a gift tax deduction so the donor does not have to pay any gift tax on the transfer to charity. Once again, this deduction is unlimited.

A transfer to charity also may be a qualified split-interest transfer. A donor may create a charitable remainder unitrust, charitable remainder annuity trust or pooled income fund gift. The charitable deduction value qualifies for both the income and the gift tax deduction.

Parents and grandparents on occasion will pay the medical bills of a child or grandchild. These gifts are not subject to the gift tax provided the payment is made directly to the medical institution.

Finally, if a parent or grandparent makes tuition payments for a student, those amounts are also not subject to the gift tax.

Remainder Interest in a Residence or Farm

A general rule of tax law is that no charitable deduction is usually allowed for the gift of a partial interest in property. However, an exception exists for a remainder interest in a personal residence or farm in which you retain a life estate. In a retained life estate situation, you deed the property to a charitable organization, but you (and/or others you name) still have lifetime use of the property. You continue to maintain and insure the property and pay property taxes.

Because this donation is irrevocable, you are allowed a current income tax charitable deduction equal to the market value of the property, reduced by your life income interest. This strategy is especially valuable to those donors who will not pay estate tax under the new estate tax structure, since it allows the donor to receive a current tax deduction for the gift.

Gift by Estate Distribution

Lifetime transfers of appreciated real estate to a charitable organization have the advantage of two tax savings:

- * An income tax charitable deduction and avoidance of capital gains tax. Yet not everyone is willing to give away property during life. Depending on your circumstances, a charitable gift through a will or living trust may be the better choice.

- * A single property thus removed from your taxable estate may eliminate a federal estate tax, if applicable, and it avoids the costly process of selling the real property in order to obtain proceeds for distribution in an estate, as well. In addition, leaving property to a charitable organization in your estate plan allows you to retain access to the market value during your life should it ever be needed.

A major charitable gift based on real estate can prove highly satisfying. However, there are special aspects of such gifts you should consider, particularly if you are considering using mortgaged property. Thus, it is important to discuss with the RMS and your tax advisor the nature of your gift of property. Each piece of real estate (and situation) is unique.

One property may sell readily, while another may require time to realize its full market value. A delay in sale of the gift is significant when the gift calls for an income distribution to the donor or person named by the donor. When real estate is contributed to a charitable remainder trust, it may be best to use a charitable remainder unitrust (CRUT), which is a trust that pays the individual beneficiaries a percentage of annual market value rather than a fixed annuity amount. The CRUT is generally structured to limit annual distributions to the lower of actual income of the designated payment amount until the property is sold.

If you make a gift of real estate now, assuming you itemize deductions on your return, you will get a substantial income tax deduction. Plus, you will have the satisfaction of seeing the results of your generosity. Instead, you may want to use the property a while longer or even retain lifetime use. In any case, you can still make the necessary arrangement now and benefit from a sizable current income tax deduction. When you make an outright gift of real property, you obtain an income tax charitable deduction equal to the property's full fair market value (if held long-term) instead of the lower cost basis -- to the extent the property would produce long-term capital gain if sold.

This deduction allows you to reduce the cost of making the gift and frees up cash that otherwise would have been used to pay for taxes and upkeep. Also, you avoid tax on the property's appreciation, the transfer is not subject to the gift tax and the gift reduces your taxable estate.

Bargain Sale

The bargain sale as a charitable giving method or option and used when the value of appreciated gift property exceeds the value of the intended gift and it is impractical to divide the property into a portion to be given and another to be sold. A potential alternative is to sell the property to a qualified charitable organization at a negotiated price significantly below its fair market value. The difference between the sale price and the higher market value is the deductible value of a charitable gift. Here is an example:

Fair market value of gift property	$50,000		100%
Bargain price (sale portion)	(35,000)		70%
Charitable deduction (gift portion)	$15,000	$15,000	30%
Marginal tax rate	X .30
Tax savings from deduction	$ 4,500	$ 4,500
Fair market value of gift property	$50,000
Less cost basis	(20,000)
Total long-term appreciation	$30,000
Sale share of transaction	X .70

Capital gains taxed	$21,000
Capital gains tax rate	X .20
	$4,200	(4,200)
Net tax savings from deduction	$ 300
Capital gains not taxed	$9,000
Capital gains tax rate	X .20
Capital gains tax avoidance	$1,800	$1,800
NET TAX SAVINGS	$2,100

The capital gains tax is partially avoided since you must recognize only the gain attributable to the sale portion of the transaction. If the charitable gift portion of a bargain sale is valued at more than $500, you must file IRS Form 8283 with your Form 1040. When the gift portion of a bargain sale is valued at more than $5,000, a qualified independent appraisal may be required. By law, the appraisal is the seller's responsibility and may be a tax-deductible expense.

Retirement Plan Assets (Low-Risk, Tax-Smart Gifts)

If someone wants to make a charitable gift to the RMS for individuals aged 70 and ½ or older, or after their death, the best option may be donating some or all of the proceeds of an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) or other qualified retirement plan, such as a 401(k) or Keogh plan. Some might be tempted to leave the money in the retirement plan to their family or other loved one, but that creates one huge disadvantage - the IRS can tax these benefits twice or even 3 times after the individual's death. Except for one's after-tax contributions, the individual's plan's death benefits are subject to federal income and estate taxes - and possibly generation-skipping taxes. Worse yet, some states levy taxes on these benefits, too. If your surviving spouse is the beneficiary of plan assets, he or she can likely receive these benefits estate tax-free, thanks to the estate tax marital deduction. But at your spouse's death, the funds will be included in his or her gross estate - unless they are spent or donated. In any event, retirement plan assets paid to your spouse are subject to income tax. With special planning, an individual other than a spouse who is the beneficiary of plan assets can benefit from a slight tax break. By itemizing on the federal income tax return, he or she can deduct any federal estate tax paid on the proceeds.

Tax-saving tactics - Charitable contributions of retirement plan proceeds are popular because they escape both estate and income taxation. Generally, if your estate is large enough to provide an inheritance for your loved ones and make charitable gifts, your best strategy is to give your non-retirement plan proceeds to qualified non-profit organizations like the RMS.

Example: Ann is a widow with one child, Alan. Her net estate of $4 million consists of a $2,000,000 rollover IRA plus $2,000,000 in other assets. She decides to give half of her estate to Alan and the other half to the RMS. If she were to die and leave each asset equally divided between the two beneficiaries, her estate would not have to pay any federal estate tax because the unified credit exempts the first $2 million and the unlimited deduction (gift to the RMS) exempts the balance of $2,000,000. But half of her IRA ($1 million) would be taxed in Alan's 36 percent federal income tax bracket. Following the advice of her attorney, Ann instead decides to leave her entire IRA to the RMS and the other assets to Alan. The income tax on the IRA is avoided because the RMS can accept the gift tax-free. Alan avoids paying income tax on his inheritance.

In this example, the unified credit is sufficient to exempt Alan's share of the estate from estate tax. But if an individual's share exceeds this credit, there will be a tax as high as 55 percent. Retirement plan assets left to grandchildren may incur a generation-skipping tax, as well. Even if your estate won't be exposed to estate taxes, income taxes can be avoided by using retirement plan assets for your bequest (gift) to the RMS and leaving other assets to family members.

Example: If you are 70 ½ or older, under the Pension Protection Act of 2006, individuals can make a lifetime gift (direct transfer, free of taxes) using their IRA funds without tax complications. Previously individuals had to report money taken from their IRA as taxable income, take a charitable deduction for the gift, but only up to 50 percent of their adjusted gross income. Some donors actually paid more in income taxes than if they didn't make a gift. Now individuals can make a gift while living and able to witness the benefits of their generosity. While individuals will not pay income tax on the amount, they cannot claim a charitable deduction. You may contribute funds this way if: you are 70 and ½ or older; the gift is $100,000 or less each calendar year; you make the gift on or before December 31; you transfer funds directly from an IRA or Rollover IRA; and you transfer the gift outright to the RMS. Be sure to contact a tax professional and your IRA custodian if you are considering a gift under this new provision.

Naming Charitable Beneficiaries

To leave your IRA or other retirement plan outright to the RMS upon death, simply fill out the plan's beneficiary designation form. If your estate is the beneficiary of your plan, an alternative is to include in your will, codicil, trust, amendment, or endowment fund specific language directing your personal representative to make charitable gifts using assets most likely to incur taxes if given to non-charitable beneficiaries. An attorney should be consulted to provide the required wording. If you are married and your spouse approves naming the RMS as beneficiary, he or she must sign a waiver of rights to the retirement plan benefits. On the other hand, if you want your spouse to be the primary beneficiary, consider naming the RMS, or other organizations, as the contingent beneficiary - in case your spouse doesn't survive you (or for some reason, the RMS should not be able to accept the gift(s)).

A little known term you may want to investigate is income in respect of a decedent, or IRD. A IRD is taxable income earned during a lifetime, not received before death, never included on an income tax return, and may be in the form of an IRA or 403(b) plan, accrued interest on certificates of deposit and savings bonds, nonqualified stock options, deferred payments of capital gains, or other earned income but not acquired. At death, most retirement plans are subject to an estate tax, as well as an income tax. The maximum federal estate tax rate, at present, is 46 percent, thereby consuming nearly half of a retirement plan's value. Add in federal income taxes, potential state death taxes, and state income taxes, the total tax bill on IRD assets could exceed 65 percent. Much of this IRD tax burden can be reduced, if not eliminated, through a carefully planned charitable gift. For every dollar which is donated to the RMS, the cost to the heirs is approximately 35 cents – a good value by any standard. Leaving your IRD to the RMS at your death not only allow your heirs to avoid both estate and income taxes on these assets, but allows the certainty that 100 percent of your bequest supports the RMS mission and objectives. A word of caution, avoid making a donation of IRD assets during your lifetime. Doing so would be the same as receiving the asset yourself – along with the tax burden accompanying it. Instead, change the beneficiary designation on your retirement plan to the RMS.

The IRS has simplified distributions from an IRA during the owner's lifetime and permits a designated beneficiary of the assets to be named as late as the end of the year following the owner's death. If you are considering donating your IRA to the RMS at your death, be sure to consult with your professional advisors concerning the status of these regulations.

Creating a Memorial

If you are looking for a loving way to memorialize someone who is dear to you and who supports the RMS -- then creating a memorial gift may be the perfect solution. You'll enable RMS to pay tribute to your loved one and you'll further our mission. Establishing a memorial is as simple as giving a gift in honor of the person you wish to memorialize. The memorial may be funded through a variety of assets, e.g., appreciated stock or cash, or you can leave a percentage of your estate. With smaller bequests, your loved one's name could be printed in a report or symposia program. For larger gifts, the honoree's name could be permanently inscribed on a plaque, poster, or have an annual event or award named after him or her.

Creating an Endowment

An endowment is a "forever" gift – a permanent fund established by a donor in which the principal is invested and all or part of the earnings are used by the RMS in perpetuity to assist in carrying out the mission and goals the donor chooses to support. Establishment of an endowment allows the donor to name the fund and gives RMS an opportunity to recognize the donors' generosity – a gift that will make a difference for generations. Donors may want to use this method to memorialize a family member or special individual, or say thank you to a loved one or RMS. This can be a scholarship given in a person's name, a research fund for a particular river management issue in the name of a friend. Endowments can be established in the donor lifetime or through a charitable bequest via a will, codicil, trust, or related amendment(s). Donors can request endowments with a single gift or series of gifts. Consider creating a collective endowment funded with cash, appreciated stocks, real estate, life insurance, retirement plan assets, deferred gifts from trusts or annuities, or personal property. Generally, a minimum donation is required to establish an endowment – as a guarantee the income from the fund is adequate to achieve the donors’ intent. The RMS would use the memorial fund’s income as you specify (subject to Board approval) and any principal from the fund could be invested to provide income to the RMS in perpetuity. Possible options to choose among several funds, e.g.:

- Unrestricted Fund – gift allows RMS to make specific funding recommendations
- Designated Fund – the donor determines in advance what programs or services desired for the donation to support
- Advised Fund – the donor recommends how the proceeds from the endowment are to be spent

Specific details included with the type of endowment the donor selects will be incorporated into a written description of the endowment and the written document must be approved by then donor and the RMS. Regardless of the type of endowment established, the satisfaction associated with charitable giving is enormous.

NOTE

Donors should ignore any e-mail asking for money. Check with the RMS Executive Director and make use of non-profit watchdog groups, e.g., Guide-Star (www.guidestar.org), the Wise Giving Alliance (www.give.org), or Charity Navigator (www.charitynavigator.org) to avoid predatory requests and cyber scams.

The options and discussion listed above are not intended to be exhaustive or complete. Be sure to obtain expert advice from your professional advisor(s) when considering your

Ten Charitable Resolutions for the Philanthropically Inclined

1. I will give without being asked.
2. I will draw upon the key people, experiences, and influences in my life when deciding where to give.
3. I will study the best methods for making donations. For example, I might make charitable gifts outright, as opposed to deferred, from assets rather than from income.
4. I will seek no influence from my giving. I may want to restrict some gifts for specific purposes, but I will place no other conditions on my giving.
5. I will make charitable giving an integral part of my estate planning. I will consult my estate planner and tax advisor for assistance.
6. I will make "challenge gifts" so as to involve others in worthwhile funding campaigns.

7. I will evaluate the business of a cause before I support it. I will look beyond emotional appeal to the financial efficiency of a charitable organization.

8. I will emphatically oppose unprofessional appeals.

9. I will encourage others to give to worthy causes. I will teach my children and urge my friends to select causes and support them in return for their relationships and for the good of the communities in which we live.

10. I will consider my financial responsibility to the health, education, and welfare of my family as I design my charitable giving. I cannot support all causes. My first cause is my family. I will learn to graciously say, "No, thank you," when I must.

RMS Policy

It is the policy of the RMS to evaluate all potential gifts to determine the appropriateness of accepting each gift. While it is the intention of the RMS to accept all gifts and donations, if the donation requires administrative costs and/or expertise beyond the capabilities of the RMS, the gift may not be accepted. The RMS may reconsider acceptance if the donor desires to establish an endowment for the gift to offset incurred costs. Potential donors are encouraged to work closely with the RMS before making gifts which may require more complex, technical, and/or administrative expertise. You may choose to pay your total gift in installments by pledging. You may request that monthly installments be charged to your credit card until the total pledge amount is paid or you may choose to receive a reminder each month.

Merchandise Policy
As Amended and Approved February, 14, 2005

Purpose

The River Management Society offers merchandise for sale to help accomplish the following goals:

1. Create an identity and foster the benefits of belonging to RMS. These items are intended for sale primarily to RMS members and associates through RMS events and may be available via the website. Examples include clothing bearing the RMS logo.
2. Further the RMS mission in providing information and education about rivers and the use of river resources. These items are made available to the general public; examples include River Logs, bumper stickers, and “Leave No Trace” hang tags.
3. Increase recognition of RMS and its mission by providing distinctive products. These products may teach river science, ethics and safety, or increase the recognition of RMS expertise and experience by providing “value-added” entertainment and/or skills development. Examples include the RMS Cookbook.

Items that do not fall into one of these functional areas are prohibited from being sold by RMS. There will be no merchandising of items solely for the purpose of raising funds, because sales are not a primary business of RMS.

Financial Objective

In meeting the primary goals identified above, a secondary financial objective of the merchandise program is to provide sustainable cash flow and a positive return on investment. Marketing decisions will reflect this principle.

Policies

RMS Logo Clothing and Accessories. RMS logo clothing will generally only be available at RMS events and on the website. The website will clearly note that clothing sales are limited to stock on hand. For website orders, the cost of handling and shipping may be charged to the purchaser.

Individual Return Policy. RMS offers a 100% satisfaction guarantee on its merchandise. Items may be returned for full refund, or credit. In cases where the merchandise is defective, or the incorrect item was shipped, RMS will pay for return shipping and send the proper replacement if it is available, or issue a refund or credit. All other returns of merchandise will be accepted for credit or refund with the return shipping paid by the customer.

Chapter Purchases. Chapters may purchase RMS merchandise items for use or sale at Chapter events. Sales to Chapters will be at RMS cost, plus 5%, plus packaging and shipping costs. Chapters may return unused merchandise for a refund of the RMS cost. All shipping is paid by the Chapter.

Use of Retailers. To increase distribution of RMS educational merchandise items, the RMS may enter into agreements with retail shops and catalogue distributors to sell or distribute RMS merchandise. Such arrangements will be non-exclusive unless exclusive use is specifically approved by the Board and is in the best interest of the Society.

Chapter Developed Merchandise. Chapters are not authorized to develop their own, unique merchandise items. The National organization retains the sole authority to develop and distribute RMS merchandise items.

Use of the RMS Name and/or Logo. Use of the RMS name and/or logo on any merchandise item must be approved in advance by the executive committee. This includes items developed by Chapters.

Requests for Funding Policy
As Amended and Approved July 11, 2005

I. Background

The River Management Society (RMS) receives requests both from RMS members and/or from individuals or organizations not affiliated with the RMS for monetary donations to support various causes, projects or events which are independent of the RMS's Scholarship, Sponsorship, Grant Distribution, or Planned Giving policies and/or programs.

Article VI, Section 4 of the RMS Bylaws provides for acceptance of gifts/bequests on behalf of the RMS, provided that such donations do not carry any implication of any special consideration toward any outside interest group regarding river management policy and are subject to approval by the Executive Committee. However, the Bylaws are silent on the reverse, i.e., requests for the RMS to provide funding in support of causes deemed worthy of such contributions. Until the Bylaws are amended, this policy addresses this issue.

I. Request for Funds Process

Requests for funds may be made by RMS members or non-RMS members. All non-RMS member requests must be co-sponsored and signed by an RMS professional member in good standing.

1. A written request for funds should be sent via e-mail, fax or postal service to either the RMS Executive Director or appropriate Chapter President (if sent only to the chapter, then the applicant must submit a copy to the RMS to prevent duplicate funding requests).
2. The Executive Committee will process requests for funding from National RMS. The appropriate Chapter President and chapter officers will process requests for funding from chapters. The RMS Executive Committee and RMS Chapter Officers follow the same process for making funding determinations
3. All requests forwarded to the Executive Committee or the Chapter President shall be received at least 60 days before any anticipated expenditure of funds.

II. Selection Criteria

In determining the merits of each proposal and funding amount to be awarded, if any, the Executive Committee or chapters officers will evaluate the following:

- a) The extent to which the donation of funds from the RMS will enhance the RMS's mission, objectives, strategic and annual work plans;
- b) Availability of funds, in consultation with the Treasurer;
- c) The nature, amount, and purpose of the monetary request, and the applicant's efforts to apply (or previous applications) for non-RMS funding sources;
- d) The extent to which the donation of funds from the RMS will be of value to the Chapter or broader RMS membership;

- e) Whether the applicant has previously applied or received a Chapter or national RMS monetary donation, scholarship, contract, sponsorship, or grant and if so, the amount and whether or not the applicant fulfilled their obligations; and
- f) Number of similar requests.

III. Decision and Notification Process

1. The RMS Officers (either the Executive Committee or Chapter Officers) will seek consensus in approving requests; however, if consensus cannot be reached, a majority vote of appointed members will prevail.
2. The Executive Director or appropriate Chapter President will notify the applicant of the award/rejection in writing along with the terms and conditions surrounding the decision. The decision will serve as documentation for the RMS's records.
3. The respective Chapter and/or the RMS Executive Committee will maintain records of the awards/rejections, including the name, date, and type of request, funds awarded, and date/rationale of why the request was rejected or awarded.

IV. Funding and Reimbursement

Either the Chapter Treasurer or RMS's national Treasurer will disburse funds via check to awardees in the exact amounts approved. Payment will be made only after receipt of invoice and/or demonstration of proof that funds were appropriately used in funding (all or in part) the applicable project and/or program.

V. Reporting and Representation

In further fulfillment of, or as a condition of the recipient's obligations, the Chapter or the national RMS Executive Committee may also request recipients furnish news clips and/or media articles related to the award and/or submit an article for the RMS's quarterly newsletter.

Ethics, Conflicts of Interest and Standards of Conduct Policy

*As Approved September 3, 2008
As Amended and Approved June 3, 2010
As Amended and Approved October 12, 2013*

Purpose

To provide standards of ethical conduct to guide members and enable them to identify and eliminate any conflicts of interest or the appearance of conflicts involving the River Management Society (the Society). Conflicts of interest or conduct issues can be avoided by adhering to these standards specifically for federal employees, but may serve to guide other members working for state or private entities. Federal members must reference the Office of Government Ethics rulemaking per 5 Code of Federal Regulations Part 2640 [78 Federal Register (FR) 14437-14442, March 6, 2013; related to Title 18 of the U.S. Code, Section 208] and exercise sound judgment.

The Society relies on the professional leadership and example of its members to prevent conflicting situations. All Society members are subject to their respective employers' ethics laws and regulations.

Responsibilities and Relationships

The Society is the only international nonprofit organization supporting professionals who study, protect and manage North America's rivers. Much of the work of the Society is accomplished by volunteers who may be employed by other nonprofit organizations, academia, businesses, government agencies and the private sector.

The Society's members, Board members, Chapter officers and staff must honestly and prudently administer all affairs of the Society, exercising their best care, skill and judgment to further the Society's benefit.

No Society member (including officers, directors, trustees, or advisors) shall derive any personal profit or gain, directly or indirectly, by reason of their participation with the Society. Each Board member must disclose any affected personal interest, or if affiliated with an organization doing business with the Society, shall identify such affiliation and shall not participate in any decision that could create a conflict between the Society's interests and those of the member or other organization affiliated with the member.

Possible conflicts of interest do not preclude doing business with the Society, but affected Board members, Chapter officers, or staff members shall not participate in any decision involving transactions affecting their personal or family interest, or their employer.

A key principle of tax-exempt status is a ban on private inurement of organizational benefits to any individual person. Private inurement can occur when a nonprofit organization conducts business with an individual who has any personal, substantial or imputed financial interest, or with a member of that individual's family.

Benefits to employers, including federal and state agencies, and the Society

The primary benefits of an employee's service as a member of the Society include, but are not limited to:

- State-of-the-art technical information about river research and resource management contributing to their professional stature, career and performance.
- Knowledge about organizational arrangements, partnerships, projects, and relationships of organizations to enhance the working relationships between the employer and other such organizations.
- Knowledge, full exchange and improved programmatic information, understanding of varying viewpoints and current issues in river research and resource management in an intellectually stimulating and productive work environs which complement employer's missions and operations.
- Professional networks and channels to gain and disseminate information and ideas relevant and necessary to the accomplishment of employer missions.
- Facilitate employer's missions, functions and processes, through meetings, conferences, symposia, workshops, training, and professional papers and publications.

Specifically Federally-employed members

Many of our nation's rivers are administered and managed by federal employees. Society affiliation is important to these professionals and essential to their career to stay abreast of current issues, state-of-the-art technical information, research, and the dissemination of information relevant to federal river research and resource management programs.

To avoid ethical or fiduciary violations in the Society, the following limitations apply to federal employees:

- Employees (subject to the evaluation and discretion of their agency) may or may not be allowed to participate and/or serve as an officer, director or trustee of the Society in particular matters where the employee has a disqualifying imputed financial interest. The term "particular matter" encompasses only matters that involve deliberation, decision, or action focused upon the interest of specific persons (applications, contracts, grants, determinations), or a discrete and identifiable class of persons. Such a matter is covered by law even if it does not involve formal parties and may include governmental action, i.e., legislation or policy-making which is narrowly focused on the interest of such a discrete and identifiable persons. The term does not extend, however, to the consideration or adoption of broad policy options that are directed to the interests of a large and diverse group of persons (18 U.S.C. 203, 208 (a); 5 C.F.R. 2635.402(b) (3)). Employees, in their "official capacity," are governed by laws and regulations while serving in any position as an officer, director, liaison (ex-officio or advisor), or trustee.
- Employees are deemed in their official capacity when: on duty, assigned by a superior, during work hours, on travel paid for with government funds, or in an official uniform; invited by the Society to participate based on his/her official position or by their official title; where the Society by-laws specify a reserved position for an agency employee; or if the employee has not previously participated with the Society in a personal capacity. Employees who have questions about this part or any supplemental agency regulations in their particular situations should seek advice from their agency ethics official. (18 U.S.C. 208).

- If the Society receives funding from a federal agency under a written cooperative agreement, it must identify the responsibilities of each party in carrying out that agreement. Any federal employee involved negotiating or implementing the agreement as a part of their official duties shall not participate in Society decisions regarding the agreement. Agency employees may only work on matters subject to the terms of the agreement and must also adhere to their own respective agency ethics laws and regulations.
- Employees may generally participate if their involvement is in a volunteer or personal capacity and not a part of their official duties.
- Employees cannot work as paid staff for the Society, e.g., Staff, Staff Assistant, Program or Executive Director under the dual compensation law. Employees cannot supervise any Society paid staff or employees on a day-to-day operations basis. They may supervise volunteers under a volunteer agreement in a personal (non-official) capacity. Employees are prohibited from instigating or generating lobbying activity of any kind on any issue pending before, and of interest to, Congress (18 U.S.C. 1913).
- Employees cannot engage in fundraising nor work on a fund-raising activity on behalf of a non-Federal organization in the federal workplace as a part of their official capacity unless specifically authorized by law, order or regulation (E.O. 12674 and 12731; 5 C.F.R. 950 and 2635). Employees cannot represent the Society during the development of an agency/Society partnership or cooperative agreement.
- Employee Society members cannot act as a Society representative to a federal agency in oral or written communication with the intent to influence federal actions as they relate to the Society's interests or endorse any product or services of the Society (5 C.F.R. 2635). Employees shall not directly or indirectly, solicit or accept any gift or item of monetary value from the Society or from any Society member seeking official action from, doing business with, or whose interests may be substantially affected by the performance or nonperformance of the employees duties; Employees may accept meals and unsolicited gifts having a market value of $20 or less per occasion provided the aggregate market value of individual gifts from the Society does not exceed $50 in a calendar year. Employees should never accept cash. (18 U.S.C. 201, 203; 5 C.F.R. 2635).

The Society

- Shall not use federal appropriations to contract or hire a grant writer per Office of Management and Budget cost principles for cooperative agreements nor use federal appropriated funds to advertise; and

- Shall not elect or hire any federal employee as a Society officer (chapter or national) if the employee is involved in an action with the Society as part of his/her official duties or has an interest in a “particular matter” as defined above.

Joint Society and Federal Agency Relationships

Any relationship between the Society and the Federal government shall be in writing and intended to enhance service to the American public through more efficient application of Federal programs.

The Society and federal agencies will maintain a list of deliverables and projects under written partnership agreement for the respective fiscal or calendar year in case of an audit.

The Society and federal employees may use federal appropriated funds to contract or hire a technical specialist for certain projects.

Any internal federal agency meetings held in conjunction with Society symposiums or workshops must occur outside of normal working hours, i.e., evenings or during a working lunch and incur no travel costs to the government. Such meetings can be held the day before or the day after such symposiums or workshops if the federal employee is on annual or administrative leave and the employee covers his own travel and subsistence costs.

10. Justification for Noncompetitive Federal Assistance:

- a. Does the Applicant Have a Capability Which Is Important to the Specific Effort and One That Makes Them Clearly More Desirable than Another Organization in the Same General Field? If yes, what are they?

Yes. They are the only nonprofit professional society for river managers in North America

- b. Does the Applicant Possess Prior Experience of a Highly Specialized Nature, Not Possessed by Others, Which Is Vital to the Effort? If yes, what are they?

Yes. RMS since formation in 1988 has over 14 years experience in the river management business which no other organization possesses

How Was this Determined?

A number of river organizations were surveyed and investigated and although have similar interests, do not possess the specialized focus around management versus strictly training or conservation for rivers.

Describe specialized experience.

Specific focus is on river management expertise and professional development of its members as opposed to conservation, acquisition, fund-raising, advocacy, training, or environmental causes. Having conducted 6 national biennial symposiums and multiple co-sponsored workshops they the best experience in agenda/conference development and facilitation, efficient logistical/planning skills, and membership networking greater than any one river management federal (e.g., BLM) or state agency.

- c. Does the Applicant Have Personnel Considered Predominant Experts in the Particular Field, or Facilities and Test Equipment Which Are Specialized and Vital to the Effort? If yes, who what are they?

Members are technical matter experts in a broad array of disciplines: recreation, planning, fisheries, hydrologists, stream restoration, ecologists, wildlife biology, watershed analysts, management, water quality, consulting, monitoring, rangers, law enforcement, etc. Many have advanced degrees and have extensive experience.

- d. Does the Applicant Have a Substantial Investment of Some Kind Which Would Have to Be Duplicated at Government Expense by Another Firm Entering the Field? If yes, explain?

Yes. BLM would have to rely on other agencies and their staffs to pull together each year a system of networking to include related conferences/workshops to maintain the current level of expertise and collaboration

- e. Is the Effort a Continuation of a Previous Effort Performed by the Applicant? If yes, explain?

This is a longstanding agreement, first conceived in 1992 (10 years) and now will be the third renewal of a 5 year agreement.

- f. Are There Any Unique Factors to Be Considered? If yes, what are they?

No.

Symposium Planning Guidelines

Purpose

The purpose of the Society's biennial symposium is to:

- Promote the Society and sound river management practices to a wide audience of students, professionals and the general public.
- Bring professional river managers together to share information and exchange expertise.
- Be interactive with as many members as possible.
- Expand Society membership and recognition.
- Provide funding to support Society activities.

The Symposium should be listed in agency training catalogues.

Historical Record

In order to ensure that future symposium planners may benefit from the experiences of others (and to provide benchmarks for those future planners) it is important that accurate, concise records be kept of all symposia. These records should reside with the Executive Director. Historical records should include, but are not limited to:

- Preliminary budget.
- Final detailed budget (post-symposium).
- Hotel/conference center contracts.
- Room nights (proposed for contract).
- Room nights (actual).
- All other contracts.
- All printed material.
- Attendance figures:
 - Society members.
 - Early registrants.
 - Late registrants.
 - Nonmembers.
 - Early registrants.
 - Late registrants.
 - Student registrants.
 - Single-day registrants.
 - Other.
- Scholarships.
 - Number and value of waived registrations and fees.
 - Travel costs.
- Honorariums.

Timeline

While each symposium is different the following planning calendar is recommended:

- 12 months - Formal timeline prepared by the symposium committees and presented to the Board.
- 12 months - Budget submitted to the Board for approval.

Budget

The symposium budget is a critical part of the pre-planning, concurrent and post-planning process. The responsibility for initial development and recommendation of the budget lies directly with the Symposium Chair with approval authority resting solely with the Board.

Budget development steps include:

- Designation of a Symposium Chair.
- Designation of a Symposium Comptroller.
- Review of historical records of past symposiums.
- Development of a preliminary budget.
- Approval of preliminary budget by the Board.
- Final budget development and recommendations.
- Approval of final budget by the Board.
- Development of post-symposium reconciled budget.

The symposium budget should consider and detail all of the applicable items listed below:

- Budget development strategy (funding to support the symposium).
- Funding sources.
- Registration fees.
- Publication costs.
- Speaker fees and related costs.
- Facility costs (hotel, meeting rooms, etc.).

- Transportation.
- Social event fees.
- Symposium hand-outs (free gift).

- Related to river management or watershed management issues.
- Open to symposium attendees only (spouses will be allowed on a space-available basis).
- Provide an educational or training component (include handouts, presentations, speakers, etc.)

Historical information about field trips should include:

- Total number, individual descriptions and prices of field trips offered.
- Interest in individual trips.

Proceedings

Professional proceedings will be published for each symposium.

Social Events

Any Society-sponsored social event may include, but is not limited to:

- Awards ceremony.
- Outdoor setting.
- Food and/or beverage.
- Entertainment.

- Silent auction
- Raffle
- Other events associated with the symposium theme or locale.

Symposium Contractor

In the past, some of the symposiums planning duties have been contracted out. If this is necessary, a request for proposal and a payment schedule will be required. If needed, historic records should be reviewed where an outside symposium planner was used, and that Symposium Chair should be contacted directly before committing.

Lessons Learned

Lessons have been learned by previous Symposium Committee members. Some suggestions have also been made on evaluation forms. A record of the lessons learned should be kept by the Executive Director. These should include:

- The lesson learned and who said it.
- Summary of evaluations.

Past Symposium Chairs

A record (complete with contact information) will be kept of all past Symposium Chairs so that they may be contacted for assistance/guidance.

RMS Volunteer Position Management and Selection Process

As Approved July 9, 2006

Introduction

The River Management Society (RMS) relies on voluntary service from members to accomplish much of the work of the Society. Members may carry out short term tasks, such as serving on a steering committee for the biennial symposium, or may take on longer term positions integral to the functioning of RMS. The longer term positions require that those who assume them are also committed to the task, competent in executing the work and appropriately supported. The following outlines the process to identify, fill and support these positions.

1. Identifying and Creating RMS positions

a. Position Proposals: Positions may be proposed by RMS members, Board of Directors, Executive Committee, cooperating agencies or others. Proposals may arise from an organizational need or function. Proposals shall be submitted to the Executive Committee for consideration and identify:

- 1) The need;
- 2) The benefit to RMS;
- 3) The cost to RMS, and
- 4) Any supporting information such as length of time the position is needed, or alternative ways to meet the need besides filling a position.

Proposals shall be submitted to the Executive Committee for decision.

b. Position Descriptions: The Executive Committee determines whether or not a proposed position has merit, and, if so, assigns the writing of a position description, program of work and budget. This work is typically assigned to the one proposing the position. The position description shall include at a minimum:

- 1) Position duties;
- 2) Responsibilities of the position;
- 3) Skills needed to be successful;
- 4) Duration;
- 5) The program or scope of work;

c. Position budget: the funding necessary to accomplish the work shall be included in the proposal.

2. Evaluating the merits of the proposed position

a. Executive Committee decision process

Based on the information gathered in a-c above, the Executive Committee shall decide whether or not to create the proposed position. Criteria to make the decision shall include:

- 1) Relationship of the proposed position with existing positions;

- 2) Funding available to appropriately support this work (and the cost benefit of its accomplishment);
- 3) Whether or not a candidate can be likely found in RMS membership; and
- 4) Need for the position.

b. Decision

If the Executive Committee decides to create and fill a position they will direct the Executive Director to initiate a recruitment process to fill the position. If the Executive Committee decides against creating the position, it shall direct the Executive Director to inform the proponent of said decision.

3. Terminating RMS positions

The Executive Committee shall have sole authority to terminate a position for any reason it determines, by a simple majority vote of the committee, is in the best interest of RMS.

4. Recruiting and filling RMS positions.

a. The Executive Committee shall fill vacant volunteer positions in the following manner:

1. The Executive Committee directs the Executive Director to advertise to the entire membership that a position is open or vacant. The notice shall be distributed in a fair and equitable manner helping to ensure all members have a reasonable chance of being informed. At a minimum, existing forms of membership communication such as the listserv, and mailings shall be used.

2. The Executive Director may recruit outside of the RMS membership if the Director and/or Executive Committee determine the position may be filled in that manner. In such case a waiver of membership dues may be used as an incentive for non-member to become active in the Society.

3. The notice of the position shall inform prospective volunteers of how to apply. Interested candidates are requested to submit brief applications by a due date according to the application instructions in the notice of vacancy.

4. The Executive Committee and Executive Director shall review applications and choose the person who, as determined by a simple majority vote of Executive Committee members, would serve in the best interest of the RMS.

5. Positions Terms

Each position shall be filled for an established term. The length of term shall be set by Executive Committee. Criteria establishing the term may include: length of time the need will exist; the expected rate of change in duties; continuity in the position; and budget. Established terms allow for:

1. Those accepting positions to know their expected minimum length of commitment.
2. The Executive Committee to make changes in positions as warranted.
3. The Executive Committee to “re-up” those who are successful and desire to continue for another term.

6. Position Budget

a. Each position shall have an annual budget, if appropriate. A proposed budget shall be submitted to the Board for consideration at the Board’s annual meeting. The budget shall be written in collaboration with the RMS Treasurer. The budget is based on the annual work program, and identifies the expectations for support. The budget is proof that RMS values the work performed by the position. The budget shall include all position related cash and in-kind revenues and expenses.

7. Responsibility and Accountability

All volunteer positions shall be directly responsible to the Executive Director. The Executive Director shall assign duties and provide direction as needed on the day-to-day duties of the position. The Executive Director shall provide progress reports or updates to the Executive Committee as requested. If the volunteer needs to or wants to address the Executive Committee for any reason he/she may do so by requesting from the President a time allotment on the Executive Committee meeting agenda.

8. Volunteer Rewards

a. RMS members who serve in these positions should be rewarded for their efforts. The Executive Committee and Executive Director together shall determine the appropriate recognition.

9. Annual Review

The Executive Committee shall review the roster of positions and budgets annually. The Committee shall consider needs, effectiveness, and alternatives to the position. Changes may result in, proposals for new positions, alterations to existing position descriptions to align with new needs, or termination of existing positions.

10. Incorporation into Bylaws

Upon approval by simple majority vote of the River Management Society's Board of Directors this document shall be incorporated as Article X of the RMS bylaws as approved on February 9th 2004.

RIVER STUDIES AND LEADERSHIP CERTIFICATE

The River Studies and Leadership Certificate (RSLC) is awarded by the River Management Society to undergraduate students who complete a program at partner institutions.

River Studies and Leadership Program Description

The River Studies and Leadership Certificate is a program designed to offer undergraduate students who have become inspired to join the next generation of river professionals a foundation of knowledge, skills and experience in river-based science, policy, conservation, education, and recreation. Utah State University, Colorado Mesa University, University of Utah, University of Idaho and Prescott College offer courses that fulfill the certificate requirements. Faculty members from these institutions collaborate with students to design and complete a personalized academic program that empowers them to address the real world challenges facing our nation's rivers. Each student's program is vetted by industry professionals, practitioners, and academics from both RMS and the partnered institutions.

The coursework required by the River Studies and Leadership Certificate Program is focused specifically on river systems, yet it is interdisciplinary in nature; students explore and study river systems in ways that integrate the life and earth sciences, policy and conservation, socio-cultural and economic factors, as well as education and recreation. Ultimately, the RSLC adds valued focus to a student's degree and presents employment advantages through networking with the River Management Society. Available on the RMS website are these documents:

- Certificate
- Certificate, Accepted Courses matrix, Courses Leading to the River Studies and Leadership

RSLC Coordination

RMS is the awarding agency for the RSLC. Its responsibilities are as follows:

1. Coordinate updated versions of the Accepted Classes and matrix, which will be reviewed annually for updates;
2. Coordinate the addition of new colleges and universities: as the group grows in number, a communications forum or listserv may be employed;
3. Develop and maintain a page or section of www.river-management.org that can be a primary resource for RSLC information;
4. Produce and mail a certificate of completion when a student's sponsoring institution confirms that they have met the RSLC requirements.
5. Maintain a current list of RSLC awardee names, award dates institution on the RMS website.

RSLC Student Support

Students are required to share aspects of their river studies with the RMS community by either presenting at the annual RMS Symposium or publishing an article in the RMS Journal. RMS will support current RSLC participants as follows:

1. Award a one-year student membership to the River Management Society, which includes a subscription to the RMS Journal, a quarterly publication, and access to national and regional chapter events
2. Invite current RSLC students to attend and present at upcoming symposia or workshops for which their conference registration fees are waived.
3. Consider applications for scholarships from RSLC students to assist their symposium and workshop participation.

While there is no fee to participate, RSLC universities and colleges:

1. offer the participation of at least one faculty member on the RSLC Coordinating Committee, and;
2. maintain a membership in good standing in the River Management Society by the RSLC advising faculty or the institution.

This program will become effective with the 2014-2015 academic year and the related outreach that is employed during the spring and summer of 2014.
